Beschreibung

The agents of brutality... see them come infinitely
A living nightmare... asleep but still aware...
Its time to the enact the final scene…
All creatures are out of exile... Coming to play mindgames…
For the last time exhumed through the corridors of time…
There's no way to undo what already has been done...

Have you gone completely bzrk at one of the many Raving Nightmares in the period 1994-2013? Just once or many times at the Peppermill in Heerlen, Platte Zaal in Maastricht, Tarm Center in Köln (DE), Mecc in Maastricht, König Pilsner Arena in Oberhausen (DE), Brabanthal in Leuven (BE), Turbinenhalle in Oberhausen (DE), Art Cube in Gent (B), Rijnhal in Arnhem, Carte Blanche in Weert and so on..... ???? Than mark the date Saturday November 8th in your calendar with a big cross! Because that’s the day that the rumurous and successful concept returns for the last time.

20 years full of editions in several different locations and countries is the reason to need to relive the Raving feeling one more time. All hardcore generations from then till now are being called upon. And this one you simply cannot miss!! Cause it will be the last one ever! The concept will get a worthy ending from its long and beautifull period of hardcore.

The Mecc in Maastricht will be divided into 2 periodes of time; the 1994-2004 generation and the 2004-2014 generation. From 2004 till 2009 the Mecc has been the stage of a yearly edition. After that it was quiet for a while around this location. But the Mecc has come back as location again in the last 3 years with several Dance events. In March 2013 and May 2014 two testcases were held with some harddance concepts. But now the time is right for the real banging and so Raving Nightmare returns for the grand finale, the last edition, in a way like never before.

The technical production of this event is in very good hands, so nothing will be left to fate, it will all be executed in the theme of the night.
A selection of the best deejays and a combination of several live acts who where very active during these periods will be divided in the two generation areas. Each one of them will get an assignment, which makes sure this final fight will become an unforgettable ending for all you loyal hardcore visitors! In these months to come will we search through our archives to rediscover some memorable images. So who knows you might see yourself in one of the pictures or videos during the event!
